more wonderful than that of women.

Marisa Franco

John 15v13

Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends.

“We often know cold demographic details about one another (married or single, type of job, number of kids, general location of housing, etc.) but we know little about the struggle of faith that is waged every day behind well-maintained personal boundaries...”

Paul Tripp

“One of the things that shocks me in counselling, even after all these years, is how little I often know about people I have counted as true friends. I can’t tell you how many times, in talking with friends who have come to me for help, that I have been hit with the details of difficulty and struggle far beyond anything I would have predicted. Privatism is not just practiced by the lonely unbeliever, it is rampant in the church as well.”

Paul Tripp

Proverbs 18v24

One who has unreliable friends soon comes to ruin, but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.
